Rating Rationale and Key Rating Drivers

The ratings reflect emergence of Reliance ("the business") as a growing rice exporter. In line with the overall industry changing trend, the company has shifted its export sales mix from China to African countries in the recent past. This has reaped better top-line growth but has also enlarged its cash conversion cycle. The company has marked its presence in African regions through two distribution entities and is committed to increase its foreign footing. Presence in local market remains indifferent. Profitability margins, that have a perceptible impact on the ratings, are low as compared to peers. Coverages diluted on the backdrop of higher interest costs in FY19, though still remained comfortable. The trend is expected to improve, going forward. The company's debt book solely comprises Export Refinancing Facility availed to fund its working capital needs. Bearing a sole proprietor status, the overall structure of the company lacks basic requisite governance and management framework. The CEO, Mr. Arif Hussain is the man behind the entire management of the entity. The country's rice sector remained well performing in 6MFY20, reflecting on the performance of the rice sector players. The recent outbreak of Covid-19 pandemic across the globe and domestically, is impacting various economic sectors at different levels. This being said, the susceptibility of influence on crop-linked businesses is impliedly low, owing to their inescapable demand at all times and their exceptional treatment under the lockdown situation. Comfort is also drawn from the fact that the Country's Non-Basmati/Irri Export revenues are largely concentrated in the African Regions, where the pandemic spread is relatively moderate, thus not creating an export hindrance. Additionally, a forecast of decelerated competition on the African side, particularly from Thailand and Vietnam, backs up a stable outlook for Irri/Non-Basmati Export. The same proxy is used to develop a comfort on the business sustainability of Awami, as it deals in Irr/Basmati Rice solely. On the flip side, as crisis in the European countries have heightened, the export demand for Basmati Rice brinks on a blurred outlook and is expected to absorb an impact in the days to come.

The ratings are dependent upon sustenance of business volumes under the current challenging environment. As global economy undergoes distress, business sustainability emerges as the key challenge for the Exporters. Meanwhile, keeping up with a stable financial risk profile is imperative.

Profile

Legal Structure The Reliance International Commodity Exports (Reliance) is a sole proprietorship.

Background Mr. Gada Hussain Mahesar started the business in 1958. As the business grew over the period, Mr. Gada Hussain established second rice husking plant in 1977 and the third in 1993. Reliance International Commodity Exports is run by his elder son, Mr. Arif Hussain.

Operations The primary business of Reliance is the processing and sale of rice. Reliance purchases both raw rice and paddy, and converts them into finished products at the rice mill in Karachi. Reliance's revenue comes from the export of rice to African countries and from local sales.

Ownership

Ownership Structure Reliance is a sole proprietorship, wholly owned by Mr. Arif Hussain

Stability The ownership structure of Reliance is expected to remain the same for the foreseeable period

Business Acumen Mr. Arif Hussain has a strong understanding of the rice sector. He is running his business from the past two decades. Mr. Arif has served as the president of Sindh & Baluchistan Rice Millers Association from 2007-2010 and 2010-2013.

Financial Strength Reliance International Commodity is the main business of Mr. Arif. He owns all the assets of the proprietorship. Dependence of sponsor on one business reduces the owner's ability to support Reliance in time of need.

Governance

Board Structure As Reliance is a sole proprietorship managed by a single person, it does not have a formal board structure.

Members' Profile Mr. Arif is the only person responsible for the governance of Reliance.

Board Effectiveness Reliance does not have any board committees. Establishment of the board committees is essential for the improvement of the overall governance structure of Reliance.

Financial Transparency Reliance does not have an internal audit department in place. Reliance's external auditors, Sajid & Co, have expressed an unqualified opinion on the financial reports for FY19. The firm is not QCR rated by ICAP and do not have any listing in SBP panel. Financial transparency is considered weak due to the nonexistence of the internal audit department and non-QCR rating of external auditors.

Management

Organizational Structure Both head office and the rice mill are located in Karachi. Managers at both locations are responsible for management of relevant affairs. Both managers report to Mr. Arif Hussain.

Management Team Ms. Afshan Munir is a qualified and experienced professional with the experience of ~15 years. She is associated with the company for ~5 years. Mr. Fida Hussain is also a well experienced person. He is associated with Reliance for ~15 years.

Effectiveness Currently, Reliance does not have any formal management committees. All pertinent issues are resolved at department levels with the consent of the CEO.

MIS Reliance uses Tele ERP as its main software for preparation of financial accounts. Reliance needs to focus on deploying a software solution with a proper technology framework.

Control Environment The overall structure of Reliance is divided into two main departments - finance and rice mill. One individual at each site is responsible for the management of the operations. Strong counter check and supervision is needed to improve the overall control environment of Reliance

Business Risk

Industry Dynamics Pakistan's rice industry is an instrumentalist segment in the overall economy as it is one of the five major crops of the country and a contributor to the national exports revenue. After wheat, it is Pakistan's second main staple food crop. Major factors affecting rice production include water availability, area of cultivation, crop yield and the governing policies. During FY19, rice crop area decreased by ~3.1% to 2.8 million hectares as compared to last year. The production stood at 7.2 million tonnes as against 7.5 million tonnes last year, short by ~3.3%, mainly due to a decrease in area cultivated. The maximum contribution from the Rice sector in country's foreign exchequer is from non-basmati rice exports, as basmati rice is locally consumed and minimal quantity is exported.

Relative Position Demand for rice in both local and international markets is expected to remain steady owing to the nature of the basic commodity. Reliance is a relatively small player in the rice industry. As Mr. Arif's family has been in the rice business for several years, The company's ability to manage its supply chain is good. Furthermore, Reliance is committed to increasing its international presence and the establishment of trading Reliance for the said purpose is a step in the right direction.

Revenues Reliance witnessed ~15% YoY growth in revenue during twelve months period ended Apr-19. Topline clocked in at PKR ~2,701 million (Apr-18: PKR ~2,346 million). Growth in revenue came on the backdrop of strong demand from African countries. Reliance sales mix comprises majorly IRRI-6 non-basmati rice

Margins The company's gross margin slightly dropped in percentage terms - Apr-19: 3.8%, as compared to the corresponding period Apr-18: 4% - standing at PKR ~103mln (Apr-18: PKR ~94mln). Gross profit increased due to the increase in sales to African countries as they have more bargaining power compared to China. The net profit of the company reached PKR ~61mln at the end Apr-19 as compared to PKR ~53mln at end Apr-18.

Sustainability Reliance is committed to strengthening its distribution network in African markets. To achieve that, Reliance is planning to establish more distribution companies in Africa. Further, Reliance is keen to improve its overall organizational structure and is in the process of changing its legal structure from sole proprietorship to a private limited company

Financial Risk

Working Capital The company maintains a strong position in working capital management. However, owing to high inventory levels and trade receivables, net working capital days remained elevated and stood at 112 days at end Apr-19 (Apr-18: 95 days). The increase is due to the inclination of Reliance's exports to African countries that have a larger cash conversion cycle as compared to the Chinese market

Coverages Free cash flow from operations (FCFO) increased by PKR ~8 million during twelve months period, clocking in at PKR ~78 million (Apr-18: PKR ~70 million). The interest coverage ratio increased to 4.3x at end Apr-19 (Apr-18: 4x) despite the increase in gross interest expense which was recorded at PKR ~18.3mln during Apr-19 (Apr-18: PKR ~17.4mln).

Capitalization Reliance has ~75% leveraged capital structure. Total debt of Reliance at the end of Apr-19 clocked in at PKR~657 million as compared to PKR~698 million at the end of Apr-18. All liabilities are short term, particularly export refinances facility, to fund working capital needs.
