Rating Rationale and Key Rating Drivers

The ratings of KEL reflect its stable business profile emanating from a secured regulatory structure. This entails sovereign guaranteed revenues and cash flows, given adherence to agreed performance benchmarks. KEL continues to meet its availability (86.07%) and efficiency (43.5%) benchmarks - an outcome of technically sound O&M team, robust systems and controls, and strong governance structure. Nevertheless, delayed payments from the power purchaser remained a challenge. Business risk is considered low exhibited by demand risk coverage under the Power Purchase Agreement signed between WAPDA and the company. Current borrowings mainly short-term reflects the need to meet the working capital requirements and maintenance projects. Because of the receivables and consequent funding thereof from banking lines, cushion in the available working capital facilities was limited. Cognizant of this, the management has increased the size of the available lines. Meanwhile, the company continues to enjoy sound coverages, though its financial profile is highly dependent on the timely repayment of the receivables. The Company has been paying dividends which in times of need is an internal source of liquidity available. The ratings continue to take comfort from KEL's association with good business groups - Toyota Tsusho Corporation and Saigol Group.

Although well-managed, in-house O&M activities expose the company to operational risk; thus upholding strong operational performance in line with agreed performance levels would remain a key driver of the ratings. Meanwhile, any significant accumulation in receivables, thereby impacting the financial profile of the company may have negative effects.

Performance Risk

Going forward, cheap renewable electricity will be a challenge to the viability of thermal power plants. During FY18, there has been a growth of ~30% in the actual power generation. Moreover, there has been an increase of ~17% in the installed capacity as at end-Jun18 to 32,641MW (FY17: 27,731MW).

Generation During 1HFY19 electricity of 245,997,000 kWh was produced (1HFY18: 332,042,000 KWhr) at an average thermal efficiency of 45.29%. This decline is seen owing to less demand for electricity by power purchaser.

Performance Benchmark Company's availability remained satisfactory (Required: 91%, Actual: ~88%).
