Commentary

ABL Special Savings Fund ("ABL SSF" or "The Fund") is an open-end Capital Protected Fund comprising six perpetual plans designed to deliver capital preservation and competitive fixed-income returns across varied investment horizons. As of March 2026, AUM stood at PKR 49,939 million, down from PKR 73,469 million in March 2025, reflecting category-wide outflows and shifting investor preferences. The portfolio maintains a conservative, highly liquid allocation 51% cash placements, 27% PIBs, 19% T-Bills, and minimal TFC/Sukuk exposure. Approximately 72% of assets are invested in Government Securities and AAA-rated instruments, reinforcing strong credit quality. The Weighted Average Maturity of 44 days ensures minimal interest rate sensitivity and robust liquidity management. Select plans have demonstrated positive alpha over benchmark returns across longer horizons, reflecting disciplined duration management. The top 10 investors hold ~35% of total units, supporting relative stability against concentrated redemption pressure within a declining interest rate environment. Going forward, any material changes in the Fund's asset allocation strategy, which could impact the Funds credit quality and exposure to interest rate risk, would remain critical for the rating.

Capital Preservation Ratings Explained

The rating is based on a detailed quantitative assessment of fund's portfolio and qualitative assessment of fund management. It provides the investors with an objective measure as to the main areas of risk to which the income funds are exposed, which is credit risk, liquidity risk and interest rate risk.

Credit Risk

- The foremost factor is credit risk, having the highest weight in the rating matrix. The opinion is based on review of various factors, including the fund's investment policies regarding credit risk exposure towards various market segments, individual and cumulative credit quality of the investment portfolio, the diversification of assets across investment types and issuers, and weighted average maturity.

Market Risk

- The more complex part of evaluating a fund's stability involves determining the fund's sensitivity to the changing market conditions. PACRA assess market risk in the nexus of variables affecting the market value of the underlying portfolio. Market value can fluctuate due to a number of variables largely including interest rate, liquidity and operating environment.

Liquidity Risk

- The liquidity of a security refers to the speed at which that security can be sold for approximately the price at which the fund has it valued. Securities which are less liquid are subject to greater price variability. While analyzing the liquidity of investment portfolio, PACRA considers the types of investments in the portfolio, the maturity structure, and secondary market liquidity.

Historical Returns Volatility

- Funds having operational history of six-months or more, the variability in returns is gauged on standardized basis through coefficient of variation for each fund in a category. The coefficient of variation is calculated by dividing standard deviation of fund's monthly returns by average monthly return (SD of Monthly Returns/Average Monthly Return).

Asset Manager

- Management scoring is derived from the asset manager rating of the company managing the fund. PACRA reviews the policies and procedures developed by the management to meet its investment objectives. Therefore, an assessment of the fund manager's qualification and experience, asset management company's capabilities and track record are an integral part to the fund rating process.

CAPITAL PRESERVATION RATING SCALE

Rating Watch

Alerts to the possibility of a rating change subsequent to, or in anticipation of some material identifiable event. But it does not mean that a rating change is inevitable. A watch should be resolved within foreseeable future, but may continue if underlying circumstances are not settled.

Rating Outlooks

Indicates the potential and direction of a rating in response to a) trends in economic and/or fundamental business/financial conditions and/or deviation from expected trend. It is not necessarily a precursor to a rating change. 'Stable' outlook means a rating is not likely to change. 'Positive' means it may be raised. 'Negative' means it may be lowered. Where the trends have conflicting elements, the outlook may be described as 'Developing'.
